Dear Mr. Weisberg,

Thank you for sending directions in your last letter. As it stands now our travel plans to your area are as follows.

We will leave here on Tuesday, the 13th and allowing two days for driving, we will get there afternoon/evening on the 14th. If convenient, we can be at your home during mid-morning of Thursday, the 15th. This would give us some time to talk and as you suggested, lunch at the Oriental restaurant would be fine. I will call you that morning to confirm.

While in the D.C. area, we will be staying with a retired agent friend and our son will be flying in Thurs. evening to join us for the weekend. We will be heading up to New England on Sunday for the rest of our trip before returning home.

Yes, your area is rich in Civil War history. When I first came into the Bureau, it was 1961, and the Centennial was in full swing. I visited most if not all of the major battlefields during my three month training period. Gettysburg is certainly one of the best.

Looking forward to meeting you and your wife.

Sincerely,

He and Gerry were pleasant people. He was teaching local police before he retired and he communicated to them his doubts about the official JFK assassination story.
